Kapolei's PACKids to Shine

In 1999, it started as an after-school theatre program at Kapolei High School called the Kapolei Complex Drama Club. In 2004, they renamed it the Performing Arts Center at Kapolei (PACK) and opened up the program to students age 7 to 17 island-wide. Now under the artistic direction of Meagan Olson and Rachele Amparo, the non-profit PACK is funded through production fees, ticket sales and outside contributions.

One of PACK's programs is PACKids, which showcases the musical talents of its kids performing current Broadway musicals and show choir hits. This is the group that will perform at the Ko Olina Children's Film & Music Festival under the vocal direction of popular Hawaiian performing artist Angela Morales, and the musical direction of Phil Hidalgo.

"Our talented kids are very excited to be performing for this event at Aulani, a Disney Resort & Spa," said Morales. "We will be showcasing a variety of songs and dances from the family of Disney as well as some Broadway hits. It's a great opportunity for PACKids, as we will be heading to Disneyland this March to perform! We are hoping that this event will open up more opportunities for our talented students to fundraise and perform around the island and throughout the state."

Here's a sample of what the PACKids will showcase:

Mickey Mouse Club Song	If I Didn't Have You
Zip A Dee Doo Dah	When You Wish Upon A Star
Hey Baby Shake Those Hula Hips	Once Upon A Dream
Dig A Little Deeper	Homework
Part of Your World	Hukilau
Let It Go	I See The Light
Under the Sea	Hawaiian Roller Coaster
Fly to Your Heart
