To a grand opening celebration for Kapolei Parkway

At long last, drivers will have a direct connection between Kalaeloa Boulevard and Fort Barrette Road. No more detouring via the already heavily traveled Kamokila Boulevard. Residents will be able to use the completed Kapolei Parkway to connect to the area's residential communities, the city's commercial centers, the Judiciary, and the H-1 Freeway.

"This is the last critical segment of Kapolei Parkway, and a major connector that will greatly relieve traffic on neighboring roads," said Mike Formby, the director of the City and County of Honolulu's Department of Transportation Services. "It's such an important event, that we want to celebrate it with the community. We have an afternoon of entertainment and family activities planned and are inviting the entire community to come out and join the festivities."

Formby said that the October 7 grand opening celebration will give residents an opportunity to walk the street, and keiki can ride their bikes and skateboards on the roadway until 7 p.m. Kapolei Parkway will officially be open to traffic at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, October 8.
